FOREWORD

The purpose of this volume is to make available to field and Seat of Government personnel a combination title index and bibliography of Central Research Section monographs published since 1947.

The bibliography is arranged alphabetically and is cross-indexed for ease of reference. A brief synopsis for each monograph as well as the date and number of the SAC Letter which forwarded the monograph to the field is also included as a further convenience. It should be noted that each major division of the alphabet begins on a separate page and that certain cross-reference titles have been abbreviated.

COMMUNISM IN THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE, SECTION I, GENERAL
SITUATION--1956

This monograph outlines the basic facts in the over-all problem of communism in the Western Hemisphere. It serves to provide our Legal Attaches in Latin America and our Special Agents in the United States with a well-rounded picture of the communist situation in the Western Hemisphere in 1956, to provide additional details regarding specific phases of the investigative problems involved, and to provide Seat of Government supervisors with material suitable for guidance purposes in directing investigations.

COMMUNISM VERSUS THE JEWISH PEOPLE

The purpose of this monograph is to focus the attention of all investigative personnel on the fundamental differences between communism and the religious, cultural, and political ideals of the Jewish people. It seeks to show that the communist movement is thoroughly incompatible with everything the Jewish people stand for traditionally. This monograph, therefore, is an investigative aid for Agents engaged in security informant development among members of the Communist Party, USA, who are of Jewish origin.

COMMUNIST MORALITY, ARTICLE I, THE COMMUNIST CONCEPT OF MORALITY

This article is the first of a series of articles involving the subject of communist morality. The Soviets' twistings and turnings in the diplomatic arena, their history of crimes and atrocities, their ability to shuffle right and wrong to serve communist purposes are all in keeping with the tightly controlled propaganda device known as communist morality. Once we understand this peculiarity, we can automatically expect treachery in any dealings with communists.

COMMUNIST PARTY, USA, ATTACKS ON LAW ENFORCEMENT,
SECTION I, COMMUNIST ATTITUDE TOWARD LAW AND ORDER

This study of a broad sampling of Communist Party, USA, attacks on law enforcement is divided into four sections. Each section contains quotations from public sources. This first section concerns the communists' attitude toward law and order. Collectively, the four sections form a comprehensive analysis of the propaganda methods which the Communist Party, USA, uses in its attacks on law enforcement.

November 6, 1956

COMMUNIST PARTY, USA, ATTACKS ON LAW ENFORCEMENT,
SECTION II, POLICE "BRUTALITY"

This section reveals the communist tactic of undermining law enforcement by accusing law enforcement officers of "brutality." It is believed that a knowledge of the material found in this section will better equip the law enforcement officer to recognize and avoid communist pitfalls, to reduce communists' opportunities to attack law enforcement, and to effect improved planning for the future, thereby reducing the harmfulness of communist attacks on law enforcement.

COMMUNIST PARTY, USA, ATTACKS ON LAW ENFORCEMENT,
SECTION III, "SMOKE SCREEN FOR REACTION"

This monograph sets forth the fact that communists charge law enforcement with having ulterior motives in their manner of exercising the prerogatives of office. Communist quotations taken from public source material are assembled in this monograph for the purpose of clarifying this attack upon law enforcement.

COMMUNIST PARTY, USA, THE TRANSPORTATION SYSTEM, SECTION I, HISTORY AND BACKGROUND

This monograph is one of a series of three concerning the transportation system of the Communist Party in the United States. The purpose of this study is to show how transportation represents a measure of the Party's growth, how it reveals the conspiratorial aspect of the communist movement, and how much has been learned about communist transportation methods from FBI surveillances. This section provides a historical backdrop to the present-day transportation of the Communist Party, stressing the growth of the system from the late nineteenth century to the beginning of World War II.

COMMUNIST SPEAKER AND THE CAMPUS, THE

This monograph shows how Communist Party, USA, speakers gain entry to college campuses to deliver their carefully prepared propaganda speeches aimed at subverting American youth and picturing the Party as a political party devoted to the best interests of the United States. This study highlights the speaker's endeavor to undermine U. S. foreign policy and to exploit racial unrest. Also emphasized are the evasiveness and the duplicity resorted to in answering the students' questions.

INVESTIGATING CHINESE SECURITY SUBJECTS, SECTION II, CONVERTING CHINESE "FACE" FROM PROBLEM TO ADVANTAGE

This monograph discusses how the Chinese "face" problem may be converted to advantage. The various sections of this study include (1) the "face" problem, (2) converting "face" from problem to advantage, (3) steps in using "face" to secure cooperation from the Chinese person, and (4) the practical significance of "face" to the Agent.

INVESTIGATING CHINESE SECURITY SUBJECTS, SECTION III,
TECHNIQUES OF INVESTIGATION

This is the final monograph in the series on investigating Chinese security subjects. It sets out techniques that Special Agents have found useful in all phases of investigative work in the Chinese security field. Topics discussed include: locating and identifying the Chinese security subjects; approaching and interviewing the Chinese security subject and other Chinese persons; using other techniques to develop information concerning the subject; making arrests; and developing and handling sources and informants in Chinese security matters.

JEWELRY DESCRIPTION

This monograph has been prepared to assist Special Agents in developing a practical working knowledge of how jewelry is described. Sections of this monograph are devoted to the cuts and shapes of gem stones, and to information regarding the evaluation of cut diamonds. Photographs, sketches, and descriptions show a number of ways gems are made up into jewelry. Many terms used in the jewelry trade are contained in a combination glossary-index which has a phonetic pronunciation guide.

KHRUSHCHEV VISIT, THE

This monograph is an analysis of Khrushchev's statements on various issues while he was in the United States during September 1959. It reveals that, in numerous instances, Khrushchev's statements consisted of half-truths, contradictions, evasions, distortions, and even outright lies. Khrushchev's comments and the facts used to refute his allegations were derived entirely from public sources. Therefore, this material may be used effectively in defecting members from the Party, in developing additional security informants, in the Bureau's counterintelligence program, and in combatting the growing public apathy regarding the menace of communism in the United States.

16TH NATIONAL CONVENTION OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY, USA, THE

This monograph has been written to explore the factors which contributed to and were responsible for the claim of the Communist Party, USA, that it had severed ties with Moscow and intended to pursue an independent course in its efforts to bring about the transition to "socialism" in the United States. Since that claim emanated from the Party's 16th National Convention, which was held in New York City in February, 1957, this monograph examines in detail the events concerning the convention, as well as those which have occurred within the Party since the convention.
